GENERAL NEWS.

Sir Henry Parkes wants the Tariff Modified for Australia.

THE WHIPPING POST TO BE ABOLISHED IN VIRGINIA.

Atlanta has a Newspaper Row Also—Death of John Wilson, an Old Actor, in New York.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Sir Henry Parkes arrived last night. He had two reasons for returning to England by way of the United States. He wished to make the trans-continental railroad journey and he has a mission to attend to at Washington. He is to set forth reasons why the people of Australia and New Zealand, think that the tariff imposed on their products by this government, especially upon wool, ought to be reduced or abated. He will also undertake to convince the government that part of the annual subsidy of about $350,000 now paid to the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., ought to come from the United States. He will address the New York chamber of commerce on the same subject. He is already overrun with invitations, among which was one to dine with the Lotos Club, which he has accepted. He is suffering from cold contracted on the journey from San Francisco, and will remain in doors as much as possible for a few days. He expects to go to Washington on the 16th, and will sail for England the first week of March.

Another Newspaper Row.

ATLANTA, Feb. 10.—No little excitement was created in this city yesterday by an assault made upon editor Dewitt of the Evening Post-Appeal by Hoke Smith, a young lawyer of Atlanta. About noon Smith entered the Post-Appeal editorial rooms and demanded an apology for a sensational article published about Smith the day before. Dewitt declined to apologize or retract, when Smith struck him with his cane, knocking him down. Before Dewitt arose Smith's friends hurried him from the office. The assault has created great excitement and blood is expected. The article which caused the assault accused Smith of seducing and deserting a woman whose home in Denver, Col. It was highly sensational, and as Smith is well-known and stands high in Atlanta social circles, he felt himself greatly wronged.

Bad Feeling on Change.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.—Several small firms failed today and there was a nervous, feverish and panicky feeling on 'change. To-morrow is looked forward to with some dread on account of expected further failures in wheat. Since Tuesday the decline in wheat has been 11½@11¾ and corn 4½@05. Profits have been large but confined to few firms.

Excitement on 'change at opening this morning was the most intense and demonstrative ever known. The desperate efforts were made by both sides to control the market. Longs insisted on higher prices and shorts persistently attempted to hammer them down. Finally the excitement rose high a panic became imminent, and several prominent shorts would do no more trading except in settlement. This almost entirely stopped the trading and excitement subsided, greatly to the relief of everybody. At 12:30 a call motion was put and carried that all deals should be regarded as in settlement. Prices then advanced one to one and a half cents and trading was proceeded quietly with.

Tested and Found Wanting.

LINCOLNTON, Feb. 10.—Lewis Powell, a white man, has been sentenced to receive 150 lashes on the bare back on two consecutive days for housebreaking and robbery. The punishment will be inflicted in installments of 78 lashes each. The senate has passed a bill abolishing the whipping post and the house of delegates will certainly concur, and if Gov. Cameron approves, this will be too late for Powell. More crimes have been committed since the whipping post was established than ever before. It has been fully tested and found wanting.

A Stuffed Crowd of Legislators.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 10.—The Virginia legislature startled that body by introducing a bill designed to prevent white men from having mulatto mistresses, the penalty being the recognition of their children as heirs-at-law.

Murder and Suicide.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—This afternoon in the house of James Sarsfield, 1543 Michigan avenue, George Robinson or "English George," driver of an ice wagon, shot a servant girl named Mary Bacon, inflicting a mortal wound, and then opening his mouth fired a bullet into his brain and instantly fell dead at her feet. The girl had refused to marry Robinson, who is apparently 40 years of age, but not well known here. Mary was of excellent character. She is not expected to live more than a few hours.

A Victim of Speculation.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 10.—D. W. Pendergast, first book keeper of the First National Bank of this city, was arrested by the U. S. marshal to-night for embezzlement of amounts variously estimated from $20,000 to $30,000. He had had charge of the books many years, and has systematically manipulated accounts to cover stealings. It is thought the money was absorbed in dissipation and grain speculation, in which he was very successful until he was caught in the recent bear movement in wheat.

Measure of Relief Taken.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9.—Measures are being taken by citizens of parts of the state to aid the people of Ouachita, Richland, Franklin, Caldwell, Grant, Jackson and Concordia parishes, who are reported in a suffering condition from the drought and failure of crops last summer. Some are practically starving, they being otherwise unfortunate in their farming. The Times recommends an appeal to the governor.

Hazing to be Suppressed.

ITHICA, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Five of the leaders in the Cornell kidnapping case have been suspended indefinitely and required to leave Ithica immediately. Forty other students are yet to be dealt with. President White says hazing will be repressed if it requires the expulsion of one or all classes.

A Golden Wedding Celebrated.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McElrath celebrated their golden wedding at their residence. McElrath married Miss Elizabeth Price February 9, 1832, and they have five children. He was formerly associated with Horace Greeley on the Tribune.

The Old Method Good Enough.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Tribune's Washington: It is reported as a foregone conclusion that the McGrath apportionment bill will be defeated in the house if a vote is reached. Indications are that the house will fix the number at 319 or 321 and apportion them according to the old method.

Failures of the Week.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Failures continue to diminish. The report of Dun & Co., shows but 191 failures in the last seven days against 242 the previous week. The eastern states contribute 14, western 40, southern 31, middle 28, Pacific coast 5, New York 83.

Heavy Losses.

W. R. Preston & Co., commission merchants, are reported as having lost $300,000 to 400,000 by the decline in grain and cotton within a week. Their real liabilities are yet doubtful. The want of a strong and severe bankrupt law is pressing.

An Old Actor Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—John Wilson, the actor, died this morning at 5:30 o'clock at his residence in this city. He was many years connected with the California theater at San Francisco.

Request of a Railroad.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—A joint circular has been issued by the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad calling attention to the opening of a new route via Halsted to Western Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and California, and request other roads to represent the new lines in their coupon ticket service.

A Fraud from Arizona.

J. B. Black, claiming to come here from Arizona, by means of a forged letter of recommendation and a package which he claimed to be valuable, obtained $1600 fr in a firm here, after vainly trying to get them to cash a large bogus check. He then disappeared.

A Quiet Market.

No great flurry in wheat to-day though prices dropped smartly. No failures reported and no panic or unusual anxiety.

Killed by a Schoolmate.

KEOKUK, Feb. 10.—A quarrel between two schoolboys at Canonville, resulted in the death of one of them, A. F. Graham, who was struck with a bullet and killed by O. Hopkins. Graham was 16 and Hopkins 12.

MEXICO.

Mexican Railroad News.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 10.—The Mexican Central is completed to Queretaro, 150 miles north. Government engineers are out examining the new division, which will open for business Feb. 15th. The first installment of, $250,000 subvention certificates, has been delivered to the company. One million more will be handed in next week. Hereafter six per cent. of duties at all ports must be paid with these certificates.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Difficulty Arranged.

PANAMA, Feb. 10.—The difficulty between Guatemala and France arising from an assault on an attache of the French legation, has been compromised in Paris. It is stated that Guatemala is to give satisfaction and the orders for a French frigate to proceed to Guatemala have been countermanded.

CANADA.

A Horrible Death.

MONOC, Ont., Feb. 10.—John Morelsnd's house at Huntington township was burned last night. His wife, stepdaughter and three children were burned to death. Two men, Rambough and Huff, probably fatally burned.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Crushed by Snow.

ST. JOHN, Feb. 10.—The weight of snow crushed the roof of a car shed on the Inter-Colonial railway. Nine cars were demolished causing a loss of $50,000.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.

The report of the treasury office congressional picnic—pic-nic was called for Tuesday next.

The sanitary committee will ask to have the bill regarding polygamy in Utah considered.

Morrill said he would antagonize all measures conflicting with the tariff commission.

The bill placing Gen Grant on the retired list was passed on the calendar, Logan being absent, without losing its place.

The pension arrears resolution was taken up and Maxey supported an amendment for enlargement of the Mexican war pensions.

Beck said the principle had been announced that arrears of pensions could be given to pensions of all our wars, irrespective of their circumstances, and thought this was carried out it would bankrupt the country; resolution laid aside.

Frye made a speech upon the tariff. When Frye concluded his speech there was executive session and senate adjourned till Monday.

House.

The committee on postoffices agreed to report favorably a bill to make all public roads and highways post routes, thus saving the time of congress in considering special bills.

The first bill on the calendar authorizing the president to appoint T. D. Kirby to a captaincy in the army gave rise to a long discussion. Colonel and Brevet General Kirby was cashiered for drunkenness and conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. Bill passed; yeas, 97; nays, 63.

Cravens, of Arkansas, introduced a bill authorizing the Mississippi, Albuquerque and Inter-ocean Railway Co. to construct a road through the Choctaw and Chickasaw reservation; referred.

A communication from the secretary of the treasury, gave the names of officers and employes of the internal revenue bureau and department of justice killed or wounded in the enforcement of internal revenue laws. The number killed was 29; wounded, 50. The names of eight persons were also given who were assaulted and wounded for supplying internal revenue officers with information.

Adjourned till Monday.

A Favorable Report Made.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The committee on Indian affairs have unanimously reported in favor of passage of a bill introduced by Representative George, to authorize the auditing of unpaid accounts in the treasury and interior departments for supplies furnished and services rendered to the Indian bureau. Large numbers of these claims are held in California, especially by San Francisco merchants. Recommendations for enactment of this bill have also been obtained from both departments named.

Bills Introduced.

Senator Voat to-day introduced two bills concerning lands in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming territories. The bills propose to give to the Idaho Land and Irrigation company and the Utah Land and Irrigation company the exclusive right to appropriate desert lands, distribute through canals for irrigating purposes the water of specified rivers in those territories and for purposes of aiding in the construction of those canals it is proposed to grant to the companies within the limits of the reclaimed tracts of country each alternate section of otherwise arid lands not heretofore granted or covered by pre-emption or homestead claims.

Senator Teller to-day introduced a bill granting to the widow and daughter of the massacred Indian agent, Meeker, one-quarter section of land each.

Part of the morning hour of the senate to-day was consumed in debate over a measure with the uncommonly strong title of "A bill for the relief of Sampson Goliath." This worthy was a high private in a regiment of Massachusetts colored volunteers, and the object of the bill is to relieve him from sentence of dismissal on charge of mutiny and to give him back pay. Senator Maxey of Texas called up the bill and advocated it, out pending debate on a legal question involved, it went over.

Another curiosity in legislation came before the senate in the shape of a bill to pay to one Lother of Vermont $84 as the proceeds of an unauthorized confiscation by the colonial authorities of two white female slaves. This claim has been before congress for 10 years and the senate yesterday approved it.

The Deficiency Bill.

The immediate deficiency appropriation bill appropriates $1,427,238 including public printing $400,000; Indian service (principally Sioux) $181,000, transportation of coin and bullion $50,000, construction of vaults of treasury $75,000, clerical force in penalon office $75,000, under fish commission $7,000, postoffice department $400,000, repairs to executive mansion $23,000. The military academy appropriation bill recommends the appropriation of $318,857, being $169,777 less than estimates.

Republicans will Object.

Republican senators in a brief caucus determined to resist any motion to bring up Harris' resolution for the appointment of Neil Brown as acting clerk of the senate. They believed it inadvisable to disturb the present arrangement, and also decided in event of Harris' resolution being brought up republicans will support an amendment with substitution of the name of Charles W. Johnson, of Minnesota.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Gladstone's Speech Creates a Sensation.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Gladstone's speech in the house on Smythe's amendment declaring it impracticable so long as the Irish are unable to define clearly where local affairs end and imperial affairs begin, has created a sensation. The Times considers that the matter of meeting the demand of home rulers showed an unfortunate departure from settled practices of responsible politicians.

The Standard says the answer will certainly be construed as encouragement to persevere in agitation.

The Daily Telegraph declares the statement, outside of its influence on the treasury, will be considered as an invitation to reopen discussion.

The Morning Post says it is a direct incitement to homebulers to persevere.

The Daily News contends Gladstone's meaning is mistaken. There seems to be a very general impression that the government will have the utmost difficulty in securing a majority for Gladstone's proposal.

Compelled to Resign.

DUBLIN, Feb. 10.—Cotterell, solicitor in the landed estates commission court, has been compelled to resign in consequence of inadvertently sanctioning the issue from the commissioner's office of a pamphlet, containing land league doctrines. The affair has caused much sensation.

Eviction Statistics.

There were 17,361 persons evicted in Ireland in 1881, of which 10,632 were readmitted as tenants and care taken; and 17,254 ejectment decrees granted for non-payment, representing arrears amounting to £47,000.

A Fenian Discovery.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Lucifer matches have been discovered in the Devonport dockyard in some oatmeal which originally came from Dublin. Orders have been issued to examine all bales on receipt, as was formerly the custom during the fenian scare.

Excitement over a Newspapor Paragraph.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—Considerable sensation has been created by a prominent paragraph in the North German Gazette accusing the progressist press of attempting to influence the verdict in favor of Prof. Mommson, being prosecuted upon the charge of insulting Bismarck in a speech during the elections. Prof. Mommson denies that his observations were directed against Bismarck personally, and still less that they were intended to insult him.

The Next Billiard Tournament.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—An agreement was signed last night between Schaefer, Vigneaux, Daly and Picot to play at a tournament of cushion carom billiards on the Brunswick & Balke table, which is to constitute the prize. The match takes place at the Grand Hotel on the nights of February 25th, 28th and March 1st.

The First Trial.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The first trial of strength in the senate since the elections resulted in the rejection of the bill against the judiciary exile and expulsions from monasteries by 150 to 101, showing that Jules Simon's party no longer have the casting vote in such questions.

Moving Slowly.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Bourse closed heavy and is likely to continue so some time. Brokers are preventing gradually in cases of defaulters so as not to swamp the market.

VARIOUS TRIFLES.

"Is the general on the retired list?" they asked of his wife the other evening. "Retired! no, indeed! she replied. "He's down to the club, playing poker."

Two highwaymen recently stole a New York editor's pocketbook and then dashed toward the ferry. They were, of course, captured, as they didn't have money enough to cross.

The Union Pacific railroad has $200,000 worth of snow blown on hand and no snow. And they're almost mad to think they haven't got a blockade, so they can use the machinery.

When little Minnie was two years old she asked for some water one night. When it was brought she said: "Papa, can't you get me some fresh water? This tastes a little withered."

A woman has suggested that when men break their hearts it is all the same as when a lobster breaks one of his claws—another sprouting and immediately growing in its place.

"Papa, why do men always wipe their mouths off with the back of their hand after coming from behind the green screen?" "That's the sign of the order, my son," replied the wise parent.

Mr. Blaine's Unassailable Position.

New York World, Dem.

When Mr. Blaine so still fully shows that by the course of Mr. Frelinghuysen the interests as well as the honor of the United States in South America have been put under the feet not of Chili only, but of Great Britain, he takes a position which is absolutely unassailable; and President Arthur really has nobody in the world to thank for putting this position at his service but those who advised him to issue the worse than absurd orders sent by Mr. Frelinghuysen to Santiago.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

An Attempt made to Abrogate the Hawaiian Treaty.

A. C. SOTELDO ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING HIS BROTHER.

The House Committee on Territories give a Hearing to Friends of the Alaska Bill.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. The Graphic's Washington correspondent says: An effort is being made to effect a termination of the treaty with the kingdom of Hawaii. In spite of resolutions passed in New York endorsing the movement, there has been developed no element of congress that is known, so far, which favors such action on the part of this government except from Louisiana, the question of sugar protection being vital to the leading industry of the state. The congressmen from that part of the country are unanimous in its favor, and oilseed has a measure looking to the accomplishment of its abrogation. It was expected, it is claimed by members from the sugar districts, that the republican party would support their measure on the score of the tariff, but leading congressmen of this side of the house have quite generally expressed themselves as opposed to the proposition in advance. There has been attempt made to work a hostile feeling against the treaty on the ground that Pacific railroad corporations and San Francisco importers have made a combination, the result of which was that transcontinental freight was put so high that Sandwich Islands sugar could be sold at as high a rate as any other on the Pacific coast, and that absence of duty did not cheapen the article to the consumer. Whether this is so or not, it does not seem to have taken hold of congress, and apparently will not effect a vote on the subject.

An Abuse Needing Correction.

The Pacific railroad lobby is very agitated over the proposition to compel a settlement of the cost of surveys of Kansas. There was some three million acres in Kansas which have been surveyed by the government, but the land being granted to the Kansas Pacific road, is not obliged to pay the cost of survey and perfect its title until the company sees fit to do so. The result is that alternate sections are being taken, schools built and adjacent lands enhanced in value, while no tax is paid upon it by the railroad corporation which owns it. The plan is for the company to sell on easy payments, covering ten years, at a good rate of interest. The title is not transferred to the purchaser until the last payment has been made, and in the meantime no one is obliged to pay tax upon it, since the road does not take its patent and pay cost of survey until the settler has made his final payment for the farm. In this way the road is able to offer the special inducement of freedom from taxes on the land bought from the company for a term of years. In the meantime the rest of the land in the neighborhood is obliged to be taxed to support of government, schools, etc. Anderson, of Kansas, is making a vigorous fight against this abuse, and has his bill well under way. Next week the railroad will have the question argued before the committee, but indications are that the bill will be reported to the house favorably.

Said a Pacific slope senator to-day: I had reason to believe that Sargent would be appointed secretary of the interior about February 1st. I have learned nothing to the contrary since. Still it was not done, so I do not know whether there has been a change of programme or not. He did not speak in so confident a tone as he had two weeks ago.

A Game Island Discovered.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A. C. Soteldo gave Barton became excited when they entered his office and showed an intention of drawing a pistol. He was further excited by reading the statement and then drew a revolver and began to fire. He (A. C. Soteldo) then drew his pistol and attached Barton. During the scuffle Burton's pistol went off and Soteldo believes that Barton shot himself. They wrestled all the way down stairs, Barton striking him several times. A. M. Soteldo had nothing to do with the shooting. Barton shot him first and then pointed at me and I in self defense fired one shot at him. Late last night A. M. Soteldo was in a precarious condition and Barton was comparatively comfortable.

Territorial Legislation Desired.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The senate committee on territories to-day heard Paul Schulze of Oregon, president of the Alaska mining and Fishing Co., and M. D. Ball, of Sitka, in advocacy of favorable action on the bill introduced by Senator Grover and Representative George, to provide a civil government for southern Alaska. The committee then took up Senator Vest's bill to establish U. S. courts in Indian territory and for other purposes. Several sections of the bill were discussed up to the hour of adjournment, and the measure then went over unfinished business for the next meeting. Burrow's bill defining qualifications of territorial delegates by excluding polygamists, which passed the house last Monday, was not taken up by committee to-day.

Soteldo's Untimely Fall.

Soteldo, who was shot last night, is to-day in a dying condition but has regained consciousness sufficient to make ante-mortem statement which is now being taken by proper officers. It is generally conceded that the ball which hit him was fired by his brother although the parties alone at the time of his fall. He was found by the janitor of the building, bleeding profusely from a bullet wound in the forehead. All doors, windows and stairways in their flight. All escaped, however, unhurt. Loss $5000.

Ruined by Mining Stocks.

John L. Brentlend, chief clerk of the quartermaster's department of the military division of the Pacific, has surrendered for raising a check from $4.50 to $4500.00. The check was drawn in favor of H. M. Black, or bearer, for wagon tools furnished the government, and after passing through the hands of the firm brokers was paid at the sub-treasury. The transaction was discovered by Major Batchelder, chief quartermaster, and Brentlend confessed his guilt, attributing the act to mining stock speculation. He was held in $30,000 bail by the United States commissioner to-day, and sent to jail in default of the same. Brentlend confessed to having previously stolen $2200.

A Democratic Ticket to be Run.

The democratic county committee of Oakland, have resolved to run a straight democratic ticket at the coming municipal election, and appointed a committee to organize ward clubs from which 70 delegates will be chosen to a convention.

Rain Movements.

The rain has now reached as far south as San Benito and Merced counties, with southeast wind and falling barometer.

Important Railroad Decision.

MARTINEZ, Cal., Feb. 10.—Judge Gregory, of Solano, sitting for Judge Brown this forenoon decided in the case of Moore vs Boone in effect that the C. P. R. R. patent took effect at the time of location and filing of its map in the office of the U. S. land commissioner at Washington, and covered only lands then public and not reserved or in litigation. The lands in question were all within railroad limits, but part of the San Ramon Sobronto grant. The legal part of the case was submitted pro forma to the jury, which, under court's instruction, found a verdict for defendent.

Accidentally Killed.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 10.—John Jacob Anderson, aged 35, while out shooting yesterday, accidentally shot himself by taking his gun out of a wagon muzzle first. He died in about two hours.

Hanged.

PRESCOTT, Feb. 10.—Henry H. Hall was hung here to-day for the murder of a man named Bishop at Flagstaff in September last. Owing to rumor of attempted rescue 20 additional deputies were sworn in and armed, but no attempt was made. The prisoner met his fate apparently with indifference, making a short statement to reporters on the scaffold and dying without a struggle.

ARIZONA.

Survey to be Commenced.

TUCSON, Feb. 10.—Col. Scott with a corps of assistants leaves here to-morrow to run a preliminary survey of the Tucson & Gulf of California Railroad, in the interest of the Southern Pacific. The distance from Tucson to Lobos is about 175 miles, and is shirted on both sides by rich mining districts.

NEVADA.

Comstock Notes.

VIRGINIA, Feb. 10.—In the drift from Joint Union and Mexican mines at a distance of 100 feet south from the Mexican line, seams of gold ore have been found. This is not low grade but good paying ore. Also about railways between the Union shaft and the joint tunnel. Nevada winze a point of good paying ore has been cut through, which projects off the 2700 foot level. In a few days sinking upon the ore body on the 2800 foot level of the Union will be commenced. This body is about 100 feet in width and it will be followed down toward the 2700 foot level, the ore being extracted as the work progresses. Connection will to-night be made between the Savage incline and the 2400 level.

Geological Time.

Prof. Ball in "Nature."

The most ancient human monuments that now exist cannot, I suppose, be more than a few thousand years old. Five thousand years nearly exhausts all historical time. Ten thousand years certainly does. Though we have no earlier historical record, yet other records are not wanting. Geology tells us that 10,000 years is but a moment in the span of the earth's history. We learn from geology that even the canoe of iron himself has lasted far more than 10,000 years. Yet man is but the latest addition to the succession of life on earth. For the chronology of the earlier epochs of the earth's history we require majestic units to give adequate expression to our dates. Thousands of years are not sufficient, nor tens of thousands, nor hundreds of thousands. The course of geological time is to be reckoned in millions of years.

Disappointed in the Results.

Springfield, Mass., Republican.

Deacon Foster told a very fair story at the recent North church fellowship meeting. In an adjoining town there was quite a religious revival a few years ago which began under Methodist auspices. But when the converts came to seek church membership most of them went to the Congregational fold. This so disturbed a Methodist sister that she remarked: "If I had known how this thing would turn out I never should have prayed as I did."

ROUZAND'S RASHNESS.

Christine Nilsson's Husband becomes Insane over the Loss of his Fortune, and Nilsson will again Return to the Operatic Stage.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

PARIS, Feb. 10.—A correspondent writing to American papers, of all the disasters caused by the failure of the Union Generale none has aroused more widespread and sincere sympathy than that which has at one fell blow wrecked the home and fortune of Mme Nilsson-Rouzand and driven her unhappy husband to insanity. So many incorrect statements have been published in regard to M. Rouzand's case that, though very unwilling to disturb Mme. Nilsson at so sad a time, I thought it well to ask her to favor me with an interview, that I might have an opportunity of contradicting the false reports current. She kindly consented, and I asked whether her husband had ever exhibited a predisposition to insanity.

Mme. Nilsson—Yes, about six years ago in Sweden he insisted himself into ungovernable fury one day for a mere trifle, simply because he could not make himself understand Swedish. For three days he was unmanageable, and several times appeared to have lost his memory.

Correspondent—Was there any tendency to insanity in his family?

Mme. Nilsson—An aunt and a cousin on his mother's side died insane, and he himself is naturally of an excitable temperament. This fact is due no doubt to his being a creole.

Correspondent—Were his habits regular?

Nilsson—Extremely. He led a most domestic life, never dining without me except when my professional duties called me from home. No couple could have been on more affectionate terms.

Correspondent—How long had he been in business?

Nilsson—About two years ago he purchased a share in the business of a Paris agent de change doing a great deal in Union Generale. He had also bought a large number of Union Timbale and Alpine shares.

Correspondent—Do you still hold them?

Nilsson—No; my husband sold out at a heavy loss when the crash came.

Correspondent—I trust your private fortune is not seriously impaired?

Mme. Nilsson—I had no separate fortune and had such entire faith in his affection and business capabilities that I allowed him to invest my money as he chose. Like many others, he was led away by passion for speculation. He invested heavily in Unions, in which he had most extraordinary confidence. When they began to fall his confidence instead of growing less became greater. It increased at last to such an irrational degree that his friends perceived that his mind must be affected. For a whole week I managed to keep him at home, but it was impossible to prevent him from getting sight of the newspapers. His excitement reached such a pitch one day that, acting under the advice of my physician, I had recourse to five of the most celebrated specialists of Paris, among them doctors Charcot, Blanche and Lasseigne, who held a long consultation, as the result of which I was advised to remove him to an asylum.

Correspondent—What asylum?

Nilsson—Dr. Gonjon's in Rue Picpus, where is has every comfort. He has a bedroom, sitting-room, dressing-room and garden for exercise entirely to himself. Dr. Blanche and our own family physician visit him daily, and he is constantly watched by three of the most experienced guards in the asylum. No one, whose visit is in the least likely to excite him, is allowed access. Even I am forbidden to see him.

Correspondent—What prospects are there for his recovery?

Nilsson—The doctors can tell me nothing definite as yet. Here, however, is a letter just received from Dr. Blanche, which gives me great comfort.

Your correspondent here read the letter in which Dr. Blanche stated that the patient had been very excited and incoherent, but was physically better and took plenty of nourishment, and on the whole was in a more satisfactory condition than at first.

Correspondent—Mme. Nilsson, may I ask if you intend to return to the operatic stage?

Nilsson—Certainly, as soon as I am assured of my husband's recovery. I shall go back to America.

Nilsson looked very pale and careworn during this interview.

HOW WOOL IS "PROTECTED."

"D. S.," in a letter to the Walla Walla Union, answers that paper and the San Francisco Chronicle, on protection of wool, in the following terms:

The point the Chronicle attempts to make is that the farmer is protected on his wool, and it winds up its argument with the assertion that the manufacturers are taxed to the amount of $31,25?,000, which they pay for the privilege of being excluded from the markets of the world to lay in their supply of raw material, and in return we allow our woolen manufacturer to lay whatever price his avarice is content with on the American consumer. The tariff he pays on the raw material is from 3 to 12½ cents per pound. When the woolen fabric comes in made up, it has a tariff of 50 cents per pound and an ad valorem duty of 35 per cent. besides the 50 cents per pound. So we see while the sheep raiser is protected the manufacturer is protected four times as much. What is the effect of the way of robbing Peter to pay Paul? We have it forcibly illustrated in our trade with the republics of North and South America. Secretary Blaine says in one of his letters that the balance of trade is against the United States more than one hundred millions of dollars per annum, being more than the united products of all the gold and silver of the United States per annum. Where do these hundreds of mill ions finally find its resting place? It finds it in the country that pits on a high protection on their people keeping up the most favorable market. As a consequence of our stupid tariff policy we turn all this lucrative trade into the hands of English traders and manufacturers. By handicapping our own factories to the tune of over thirty-one millions for the raw material the consequence is we cannot trade where things are allowed to move in their natural way. No nation ever got wealthy by swapping knives and cheating each other. I say take off this duty that the American manufacturer has to pay and let him have a fair show and he will regain the markets of Mexico and South America, and then we will have a balance of trade in our favor from this continent as well as from Europe. Twenty-two years ago, before we handicapped our manufactures to enrich sheep raisers that forage their flocks on government land without hindrance, we had as large a trade as England in all the American republics, as we now in China. But alas we have lived to be able to write the decline and fall of American commerce. Take away the farm products from our foreign commerce and we have less than eighty millions, the farm furnishing some eight hundred million. It is not hard to see the effect of your tariff system on our American manufactures. Let us take the fetters off our industries.

THE GROWTH OF INSANITY.

Statistics and Theories Presented by Physicians who have Charge of Asylums.

New York World.

A meeting of the National Association for the Protection of the Insane and the Prevention of Insanity was held Friday night in the municipal hall in Madison avenue, Dr. H. B. Wilbur, the president, in the chair. A number of papers were read by physicians on some of the questions in the treatment of the insane. The first, by Nathan Allen, M. D., LL. D., at one time a member of the state board of charities of Massachusetts, was on "Insanity in its Relations to the Medical Profession." Dr. Allen thought that the greatest need at present was a more intimate knowledge of insanity on the part of the profession at large. The present system, in which all study of insanity is confined to a few experts, is bad in every way. Dr. C. F. Dana followed with a paper on "The Asylum Superintendents on the Needs of the Insane in this Country." There are at present in the United States about 65,000 insane people, or 1 to 777 of the population. Twenty years ago the ratio was 1 to 1340; in 1875, 1 to 953. The ratio in England is 1 to 350. By sections the ratio is, in New England, 1 to 588; middle states, 1 to 600; western states, 1 to 801; southern states, 1 to 1100. The ratio to which we look forward in the future is, in New England, 1 to 500; west, 1 to 600; south, 1 to 800. In 1881 there were 74 state and 34 private asylums. The cost of maintaining them was $12,000,000 a year. The needs of the insane are want of room in asylums, separation of acute and chronic patients and epileptics, improvement in the laws of commitment, more supervision and work for patients, and a separation of state asylums from political influence. Dr. Dana found a lack of scientific information and spirit in the reports of superintendents. Dr. E. T. Bigelow read a paper on "The Functions of a Consulting Medical Staff to Lunatic Hospitals," and Dr. J. B. Shaw followed with one upon "Two Years' Experience with Non-Restraint in an Asylum Containing 800 Patients." Dr. Shaw is the superintendent of the Kings county lunatic hospital. The result of his experience is that restraint may be absolutely abolished; that in asylums where there is no restraint the patients are more quiet and more easily governed, and that seclusion may be done away with to a great extent. He had found that change of scene, when only to the extent of a change in a workroom or ward, did great good. He thoroughly believed in the system of non-restraint, and thought that a visit to Kings county would convince any one of the justice of his conclusions.

EQUITABLE

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,

120 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE PRIOR TO 1882,

The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Polic ie with the following remarkable results:

POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.

1st Example: Policy No. 43,583, issued May 23, 1863. Amount.....$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years).....5,240 00

The insured was entitled to draw, in cash, $6,455.80, having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years, 11 per cent. of premiums paid, returnable in cash.

This example and those which follow show that

LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID POLICY-HOLDERS THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.

2d Example: Policy No. 58,543, issued Dec. 30, 1870, for amount 10 years. Tontine Period ten years. Amount.....$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years).....7,520 00

The insured on Dec. 30, 1880, was entitled to draw in cash, $3,033 30, 120 per cent of the premiums paid.

These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are

NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.

3d Example: Policy No. 41,621, issued March 27, 1869. Amount.....$5,000 00
Total premiums paid.....2,208 05

In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1880, in cash, $3,212 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.

Many policies could be thus paid in 1883, showing

CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.

Assets securely invested of $41,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 11, 1882.

CONGRESSIONAL APPORTIONMENT

A dispatch of to-day says that the bill to apportion the members of the house of representatives under a new method on the basis of the census returns will be defeated, and that the number of representatives will be fixed at 319 or 321, and apportioned on the old plan. The present number is 293. The addition to the membership of the house, already quite large, will therefore be considerable. States do not want to give up any of the members they now have, and to avoid this the whole number is to be increased.

What is called the old plan may be explained in this way: First, the total population is divided by the number of representatives required. Now, as the total population of the states is 49,371,340, if it were required that the number or representatives should remain as at present—the number being 293—the quotient would be 168,393. But suppose the number be fixed at 320—the mean between the numbers given in the telegraphic report. In that case the quotient would be 154,285. Having fixed the average number which one member would be entitled to represent, the next step is a calculation to discover the number to be assigned to each state. To this end the population of each state is to be divided by the quotient above obtained, which quotient, as the basis of apportionment, represents the number of inhabitants which would fall to each congressional district if it were possible to divide the whole country into districts exactly equal in population. But when it is applied to the several states there will in every case be remainders of greater or less size. For example, it would give New York 32 members with a remainder of 145,751—almost enough to entitle the state to another representative. Applied to all the states, it would allot 302 members, without taking the remainders into account.

But as the whole number is 320, there must be allotted in some way some 18 more members. Neither Delaware nor Nevada has sufficient population to secure even one representative, for in the one state the number of inhabitants is 146,608 and in the other 62,266. But each state must have at least one representative, and therefore one is arbitrarily allotted to Delaware and one to Nevada. This allotment leaves 16 places to be assigned. There is a list of 36 remainders, belonging to as many states. Under the old plan the 16 members were assigned to the highest 16 remainders, in their order. With a house of 320 members, the first allotment for a remainder would be given to Tennessee, whose remainder is 153,194; the second to Georgia, the third to Illinois, the fourth to New York, and so on, down the list, until the 16 places are filled. The additions for remainders, with a house of 320, would be made as follows, and in the following order under the old plan: Tennessee, Georgia, Illinois, New York, Nebraska, Indiana, Virginia, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Florida, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, California, Massachusetts, and Iowa. Coming down to Iowa, the remainder is only 81,765. This is the last state to get an allotment for remainder. The list is now complete under the old plan, and the whole number of 320 has been assigned.

Another, and obviously fairer plan has been proposed, though it is said congress will not adopt it. A single example will show the unfairness of the old plan, which there has been an effort to correct. In a house of 320 Iowa would get 11 members, gaining one of them by the remainder, but Wisconsin, with the remainder, next in size, would gain none by it and would have 8 members. With 11 members Iowa would have 1 member for each group of 147,562 inhabitants, while with 8 members Wisconsin would have 1 member for each group of 164,437 inhabitants. It is plain that some more equitable plan than this ought to be devised, so that the representatives may be more evenly distributed. The new plan would remedy the defect. It would begin by dividing each state's total by the basis of apportionment, as in the old plan, but the additional members would not be assigned in accordance with the size of the remainders. The problem would be solved by a calculation to determine by trial under what additional distribution the number of inhabitants for each representative in the states whose representation is increased would fall least below the ratio, and the representatives would be distributed accordingly. Taking the allotment made by the bill for 320, under the new plan, it will be found that in the several states, omitting Florida, Rhode Island, Colorado and Nevada, the ratio of inhabitants to each member is generally not far from the average ratio determined for the whole country. The extremes are 174,786 in Oregon and 146,565 in Illinois. In Colorado the ratio is 194,327; in Florida and Rhode Island it is 209,493 and 276,531, respectively. If another member should be given to each of these two states the ratio in them would fall about 8000 below the limit reached in any other case.

But the congressional mind is too indolent to study out any new problem, and seems to prefer adherence to the old methods already solved for it. To our state, at the present time, it makes no difference, since we should get only one member in any event; but if we had a very large remainder of population beyond the number which forms the basis of apportionment, and yet should miss the obtainment of the additional member, we should have a clearer practical illustration of the inequitable nature of the present system of apportionment.

GLADSTONE'S IRISH POLICY.

Louis J. Jennings the distinguished English correspondent of American journals has just made a tour of Ireland and presents observations and conclusions therefrom in a letter to the New York World. The land bill, he says, and the policy connected with it has brought into existence some new animosities, but it has extinguished none of the old ones. No one professes to be satisfied with what it has done, not even the farmers, who have gained all that it has had to give, while the laborers, who gain nothing, are more discontented than ever. The landlords, who at any rate were stanch supporters of English rule, are now estranged from it, and their only desire in most instances is to get out of the country as soon as possible, before what is left of their property is taken from them. This is all that the land bill itself has done, or is likely to do, but what about the measures which accompanied or very soon followed it? On that point there is surely no occasion for any one to deceive himself. The number of persons arrested and imprisoned since parliament last assembled is various y estimated at from 350 to 500—for the exact number it is impossible to get at in the absence of official information. No regular charge under the ordinary forms of law has been brought against a single one of these prisoners; not one has been allowed to have a hearing before a magistrate; not one has any information as to who his accusors are, or what is the nature of the testimony he will be called upon to meet. A warrant from "the castle" or from the police under the authority of the castle is all that has been necessary to deprive from 350 to 500 persons of their liberty. The animosity of a neighbor or the malice of a personal foe may have been sufficient to take away the fathers of families and consign them to prison without the prospect of trial or release. Gladstone's Irish policy is a failure, Jennings thinks, and is severe and even brutal.

A DECLINE IN TRADE.

A few days ago the New York Tribune summarized the state of the eastern trade in the following paragraph:

The condition of the export trade continues the least satisfactory feature of the situation. The imports are large; last week the increase over the corresponding week last year was more than 70 per cent, and for the three weeks of January the aggregate value of imports here has been $24,370,066, against $21,649,365 last year. There are some signs that domestic trade is getting out of joint on account of the want of an outlet for surplus products. Here and there manufacturing establishments, which were enjoying bright prospects a month or two ago, have lowered prices, reduced hands, or shortened hours, and these incidents, though not by any means frequent enough to indicate a beginning of reaction, concur with the receipt of exchanges in showing that the interior movement is for the moment less regular and healthy than it was some time ago. At most of the cities the exchanges still show a large increase in the volume of business over that of January last, but at the principal centres of wholesale trade a decline has appeared since the new year began.

The Chicago Tribune finds the reason of all this very clear. People have been reaching out too far and grabbing for too much. The manufacturers, under the hot-house system, have developed prices to a degree which admits foreign articles in spite of the tariff and shuts of home productions completely from all other markets. The spirit of extravagance has been bred by brief prosperity, and zeal in enterprise has outrun judgment. It is an old story, and the sequel is always the same. The time is not far distant when the shipment of gold in payment of exchanges will begin again, unless the correction noticeable in the retrenchment cited in the above paragraph shall be general enough to reduce prices, contract the volume of production, and especially check the movement in the direction of wild and unprofitable investments.

Congress last session appropriated $1,000,000 to be employed in abating any disease that should assume epidemic form in the country. The immediate object was to be prepared to meet the yellow fever; but the appropriation is said to be available for smallpox as well. The national board of health has declared smallpox to be epidemic in the United States, and with this declaration the money becomes available for the emergency. Extraordinary efforts are being made in eastern cities to check the progress of the scourge.

The Rodgers, which started north several months ago to search for the Jeannette, is in winter quarters at St. Lawrence Bay. Her commander is still ignorant of the fate of the Jeannette, and is now doubtless preparing for a long cruise among the icebergs. The navy department will try to send orders across the ice fields to St. Lawrence bay for the Rodgers to return.

A bill has been introduced into the New York legislature providing that all railroad companies in that state shall heat their cars by steam or hot water within ninety days from the passage of the act. Non-compliance with its provisions is made a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding $50,000, nor less than $30,000.

The national bank of Mexico has been organized and $3,000,000 of the capital paid in. New York holds 12,000 shares; 18,000 are held in the City of Mexico and 60,000 in Paris. The bank will be located at the City of Mexico.

CITY.

SAD ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—Wednesday afternoon a son of Mr. Wm. M. Taylor died of pneumonia at the residence of Mr. Whitaker, on Third street next door to the Methodist church, where the family had been stopping for a few days. The boy was only 20 months old, but a bright and affectionate child, and the favorite of his father. After the death of the child Mr. Taylor appeared completely stunned and broken down, the shock making him act as though it had overthrown his reason. The burial was to have taken place at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and Mr. Taylor asked and insisted that he be allowed to sit up with the remains of his son through the night, and did so. About one o'clock yesterday morning his wife went into the room, where her husband was keeping watch and found him sitting in a chair as if asleep. She spoke to him but received no answer, when she noticed a letter lying on the table close by for her, also one for her husband's sister, both written by him. Upon opening the letter addressed to her, the first words she saw were: "By the time you read this I will be with the boys." She then made ineffectual efforts to rouse her husband, and after awakening the household sent for a physician. Dr. Watkins, who was just on the street, hurried to the house, and after forcing open Mr. Taylor's mouth discovered that he had taken morphine, and gave him the proper antidotes. Dr. Watkins, assisted with other physicians, worked with Mr. Taylor until daylight, when he was so far recovered as to regain consciousness. He was rapidly recovering from the effects of the poison at a late hour last night. He has an interesting and affectionate family, consisting of three daughters and a son; also a sister and brother living. The only cause that can be given for his rash deed is that his reason had become partially destroyed by the severe blow he received through the death of his boy.

EXTRAORDINARY JOURNALISTIC HONESTY.—About eight months ago, Frank Northrop, son of Mr. E. J. Northrop, and Mark Gill, son of Mr. J. K. Gill, both school boys, began publishing monthly the Webfoot, a bright little paper which they printed on a hektograph. Quite a number of cash subscribers were obtained at fifty cents per annum. This week the publishers concluded to suspend the paper, and instead of closing out with a double leaded editorial, saying a good deal without meaning anything and promising to resume publication with enlarged columns and associated press telegrams from all parts of the world, they addressed a polite applegetic note to each subscriber and enclosed fifteen cents, balance due for papers not delivered. This honesty is unparalleled in the history of Oregon journalism. If there is a similar case on record in this country, we will be glad to hear of it. When THE OREGONIAN suspends, it will follow the example set by these boys.

OUR SEATTLE VISITORS.—Yesterday Mrs. T. S. Russell, Judge J. R. Lewis and Mr. Kirk C. Ward, the committee from Seattle, visited Park, Central and North schools, the hospitals and several private residences. Judge Lewis said to an OREGONIAN reporter that he found the schools ten years in advance of what he had expected. The committee express themselves much pleased with every feature of the public school system. They are loud in praise of Park building—its handsome appearance, convenient arrangement, method of heating, but above all its perfect ventilation. They received very courteous treatment at the hands of the board of directors, Dr. Geo. H. Atkinson, Superintendent T. H. Crawford and of all principals and teachers visited, which was gratefully appreciated. The committee leave for home this morning.

POSTAGE ON VALENTINES.—The five or six thousand boys and girls, who expect to spend their odd bits in valentines next Monday, should remember that postage on drop letters is two cents. If a one cent stamp is affixed, the valentine will be seen only by clerks in the dead letter office at Washington. Be sure to give the address of the person you want it to reach. Mr. Chittenden, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Myrick and all the rest of the gentlemen in the postoffice know a great many children in Portland, but not all. They might know her father, John Spoopendyke, but not Miss Augustina Spoopendyke. So don't neglect to add the street number, or the name of the parents of the boy or girl you want to surprise.

WILD WITH DRINK.—Late Thursday night a blacksmith working on the O. R. & N. railroad in the vicinity of East Portland, ran into the Home hotel, where the proprietor and a few friends were chatting, with only an undershirt and a pair of drawers on, crying "Save me, they will kill me." He was taken hold of by the bystanders and put into bed, and Dr. Raffety sent for. The man suffered with spasms during the night, caused by excessive drinking. He left the hotel yesterday and went to work. His companions say that these fits are of common occurrence. He has a wife and family living in Washington territory, and is a very good workman.

FACTS FOR FISHERMEN.—A curious old work written by Sir Humphrey Davy and published in Philadelphia in 1833, from the second London edition, entitled "Salmonia, or the Days of Fly Fishing," in a series of conversations, with some account of the habits of fishes belonging to the genus salmo, has been presented to the library association by the Right Reverend Bishop D. Wister Morris.

THE HOSPITAL BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.—Now Market theater was filled last night with a very fashionable audience. The performance for amateurs was remarkably fine. A full account of the event from the graceful pen of "Madge" will be published in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN. To-night the entertainment will be repeated. The general public can obtain tickets at Prentice & Co's.

DIED OF SMALLPOX.—Ah Yeck, the Chinaman who was taken from the insane asylum to the smallpox hospital some time since, died Thursday morning, and was buried the same afternoon by Chief of Police Lappeus. The hospital is now empty, this Chinaman having been the only one there for several days past. Out of the several cases taken charge of by the city, only two proved fatal.

A CHILD'S DEATH.—Former friends of Lieutenant and Mrs. Gooding, who it will be remembered was on the revenue cutter Corwin, will regret to hear that the bright and intelligent little Edna, their only child, died in San Francisco on Wednesday last. The illness was typhoid-pneumonia.

MONTHLY MEETING.—The open temperance society will hold their monthly meeting to-morrow evening at the Unitarian church. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. T. L. Eliot. There will be brief addresses by other speakers, including Hon. J. F. Caples.

BURGLARY.—Wednesday evening the dry goods and clothing store of A. Lewis at Shedd's Station in Linn county, was burglarized of several hundred dollars worth of goods, consisting principally of clothing and blankets. As yet no clue to the thieves has been discovered.

TO-NIGHT'S LECTURE.—This evening Rev. E. G. Jones, D. D., of Petaluma, California, will deliver his celebrated lecture on "A Happy Family, or Courting, Marrying and Living," at Y. M. C. A. hall for the benefit of the Open Temperance Association.

RESULT OF A ROW.—Charles Rose, a Jamaica negro, and John Gibson, a runner for a sailor boarding house, who were arrested Thursday night for disturbing the peace by fighting, were both arraigned and fined ten dollars in the police court yesterday.

FUNERAL TO-DAY.—The remains of John Van Bourden will be laid to rest this morning, the funeral services taking place at the cathedral at 9 o'clock. The Handel and Haydn society will attend in a body.

THE STRANDED.—The State of California arrived here at 8:30 last night. The wires to Astoria being down, it is not known whether the Oregon crossed out or not.

DIED.—C. J. H. Lindgrew, a prominent citizen of Astoria, died of apoplexy at that place Thursday evening. He will be buried this morning from his residence.

GARRISON'S SEWING MACHINE STORE, John B. Garrison, proprietor, 167 Third street, Portland.

D. W. Prentice & Co., leading music dealers, the only house in Portland that deal in musical merchandise exclusively. Largest stock of pianos, organs, sheet music and everything that pertains to the music business. Send your orders direct to us.

With a large experience here and elsewhere, Smith & Hansen, of the St. Charles restaurant, can and certainly do set for their patrons the best meals obtainable in the city. Indulge in a meal.

SLIGHTLY DAMAGED.

$1500 worth of laces, embroideries, corsets, etc., were damaged at the recent fire in Mellis Bros. & Co's store. The loss was promptly adjusted by the insurance companies, and we are now at liberty to offer them for sale. As no one refuses a bargain when it is offered an early call is advisable.

Ask any of the fair sex where to get the choicest candies, and they invariably recommend S. L. Stone, First and Ash.

The largest and best selected stock of Valentines in Portland can be seen by calling at the popular music house of J. H. Robbins & Son, 229 First street.

The land belonging to the estate of the late William Lowe, situated on the Vancouver road about four miles from Portland, will be sold on Saturday, the 11th of February, at 10 o'clock A. M.

The People's Transfer Co., 5 Washington st., check baggage on all outgoing steamers at private residences. Orders left at the office promptly attended to.

Garrison's, 167 Third street, is the best place to get sewing machines repaired, and for needles, attachments, silk thread, machine parts, etc.

THEY DON'T LIKE TRAMPS.

The Residents of Hillsboro Propose to Give a Lazy Loafer Fifty Lashes.

Thursday at several times during the day, two tramps were seen prowling about the suprets and inspecting stores and residences of Hillsboro, Washington county, making loud complaints that they could not find work. Garrison & Rucker offered them work getting out wood, and were met with the answer, "We'll be d—d if we work; we've given up that kind of thing; we'd rather steal first." One of them asked the sheriff whether he could not accommodate them with board and lodging in the jail. Upon receiving a negative answer, they then attempted to commit burglary so that the county would have to support them. About seven o'clock in the evening one of them named Powell smashed a window in Pittinger's store. He was arrested by the city marshal and said he broke the window just to go to jail.

Immediately after, a citizens' meeting was called in the town hall to devise means of assisting officers to protect life and property. It was also called to order at 8 o'clock and give him fifty lashes with a horsewhip. Before the meeting adjourned, several citizens including the county clerk, sheriff, Rev. Mr. Judy and others appealed to them not to put their threats into execution. A gentleman who attended the meeting said to an OREGONIAN reporter last night that the people were in an ugly mood when aroused, and acted as though reason had left them. The sheriff yesterday morning refused to allow his prisoner to leave the jail to be taken before a justice until he had received assurance from leaders in the "whipping" movement that the man would not be molested. However, while the trial was being conducted from prison to Justice Randall's office, a crowd of two hundred surrounded him, tearing his clothes, punching him in the ribs, hooting—in short "scaring the life out of him." He was fined $10 and in default was committed to the county jail for five days. He has received notice to quit the town immediately after his sentence expires, or remain at his peril.

A dozen tramps who have been hanging around Hillsboro for a week or more left yesterday bound for this city.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Columbia's last trip from the bar to San Francisco, was made in 39 hours.

H. B. Litt, the Third street milliner, is preparing to move to the corner adjoining.

Mellis Bros. & Co. will give fifteen valuable presents this morning to the "Home."

The juvenile temperance meeting will be held this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the Congregational church.

The extension to the culvert at the end of Washington street has caved in and the work is necessarily delayed.

Letters in this office for Granger; Grocer D.; J. T.; Miss E. F.; F. W. S.; Permanent; A. L.; J. B.; M. J. M. R.; Albion; T. S.; N. S.; C. H.; O. B.; A. B. C.

Mr. G. Franz, an active member of the Portland Social Turn Verein and dramatic section of the same society, is lying quite ill at St. Vincents hospital.

Lincoln's birthday will be celebrated to-morrow night at Masonic Hall. In addition to the speakers heretofore announced, Mr. C. P. Yates has been announced.

VIOLENT STORM

ALONG THE COAST AT THE MOUTH OF THE COLUMBIA.

Considerable Damage at Ilwaco—Graphic Description of the War of Elements—No Damage to Shipping.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

ASTORIA, Feb. 9.

A fearful southerly gale has swept along the coast today. The warehouse on the Ilwaco landing piers, was leveled with the ground, the roof being blown clean off, portions of it being carried by the wind nearly half a mile and deposited in the rear of the old Unity Hotel. Boards lying on the wharf ready to be used in the building of the new cannery, were split flying like chips through the air, and as they came in contact with the limbs of trees broke them off as if they were pipestems.

The road across the portage to the weather beach, we are informed, is so obstructed with fallen trees, that it will probably take a week to clear the track.

The steamer Little Tug Canby, made her regular trip to the forts, though caught in the gale, but returned as soon as under better headway. Capt. Whitcomb says that from Shoe-bottom across the sounding into the river was one mass of combing breakers and seething, milky foam. Twelve vessels, ready for sea, are anchored in the channel between Sand Island and Astoria. All were riding the gale out with both anchors down as the cables came up, and fortunately we have no shipping disaster so far to chronicle. Capt. A. C. Fisher thought he could make his usual trip to the little Sam to Scipanon before the gale reached here, but he got caught that when a little beyond smith's Point, and says it was the hardest blow he ever experienced in his long residence in this vicinity. The captain very gratefully described the effect of the heavy sea rolling into the tortuous creek which leads to Skipanon landing. He said: "You know the waves have washed the soil mud out on the banks in hundreds of places in long narrow strips. Well, the heavy swells come rushing in three lines in with the tide, and that when it reached the end the spray dashed up so high and straight it looked just like a lot of hydraulic streams playing in some mining camp."

A gentleman who arrived from Clatsop plains this evening says that Tillamook rock presented a grand sight from the shore, wave after wave mounting in quick succession up its craggy sides, and as they spent their force on nearing the summit, the fierce wind would carry the salivery spray over and beyond the top of the lighthouse, the effect presenting the appearance of a grand waterfall. However pleased with the grandeur of the scene, a feeling of nervous sympathy must, we should imagine, creep over the spectator when he remembers that on that wave-beaten and spray-crowned rock are four brave men exposed to the dangers of the two angry and implacable elements of wind and water, shut out from all human sympathy, and even mortal aid should they require it; and, yet, isolated and exposed as they are, cheerfully performing the duty which requires them to keep bright the beacon light of warning which shall serve to caution the mariner not to approach too perilously the barren rock on which they dwell.

In Astoria the damage done was chiefly confined to fawningling signs and show windows. Mr. I. W. Case's store and Conn's drug store suffered so badly that the fronts had to be boarded up. At Warren & Eaton's store a singular accident occurred to a young employe, Mr. Meier. He was standing inside at least ten feet from the front when a fearful gust burst a large pane of glass, driving a piece of it with much force against his shoulder, cutting through three thicknesses of clothing and inflicting a deep gash, necessitating immediate surgical treatment.

Toward evening the gale abated, having earned a record of being, for the second time it lasted, about the hardest blow remembered here.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, Feb. 9.

Supreme court met at 1 o'clock. Present: Lord, C. J., Watson, J.

State board of school land commissioners app. vs Andrew Wiley. Elizabeth Wiley and John J. Davis resps. Appeal from Linn county. Decree of the court below affirmed. Opinion by Watson, J.

SYLLABUS.

1. A sufficient description of lands in a written instrument is not impaired by the addition of a false particular, inconsistent with such previous description. The false particular should be rejected as surplusage. So held where, to a good description of lands in a mortgage, was added the statement that they lay in a designated township, while in fact they lay partly in that and partly in an adjoining township.

2. A partition of land, upon the undivided half of which one co-tenant has previously executed a mortgage, does not affect the interest of the mortgagee. Such co-tenant acquires no new title or interest by the partition, its effect being merely to sever his interest in the land from that of his co-tenant.

3. A decree of foreclosure and sale, rendered upon such mortgage, prior to the partition, is not affected by it, and such decree effectually secures the rights of the mortgagee, and no further decree is necessary.

S. A. Nichols, resp., vs J. W. Gage, app.; argued and submitted.

Court adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

FRIDAY, Feb. 10, 1882.

Court met pursuant to adjournment. Present, Lord, C. J., and Watson, J.

William Gray, resp., vs Patrick and Margaret Holland, apps. Decree of the court below affirmed.

SYLLABUS.

While a married woman cannot usually become personally bound for the debt of her husband, she may ordinarily pledge or mortgage her separate property for his debt, and if she does so, such property occupies the position of surety or guarantor, and will be discharged by anything that would discharge a surety or guarantor who was personally liable.

Nor is her character as surety affected by the fact that the debt secured is the debt of her husband. As surety for his debt she is entitled to all the rights and privileges of that character.

Mere forbearance or delay of the creditor toward the principal will not discharge the surety.

John Lukes, resp., vs A. J. Burtsvant and Carrie Sturtevant, apps. Argued and submitted.

Court adjourned until Monday next at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Baker City grange is in a prosperous condition, and is said to be doing good work in developing the agricultural resources of Baker county.

Acting under instructions from the secretary of the interior Major Rinehart, farmer in charge, has ordered all persons having stock or improvements upon the Malheur reservation to remove them without delay.

Lackey, Brigham and Somerville of Prineville, have purchased about 1000 head of cattle, mostly steers, of the following parties. Perry Rowe, Al Cole and Wm. Crawford, and are in the market for more. They have negotiated with cattle men buyers for a sale of 1500 to 2000 head of others.

E. Hall, postmaster at Canyon City; Frank McBean and John Cary, subcontractors on the Canyon City and Prineville mail route, John Fisk and Joe Masterson, stage drivers; and L. Schintz and Wm. Cowan, hotel keepers, have been summoned to Washington on the star route business.

J. B. Huntington, one of the largest stockowners in Baker county, and extensively engaged in quartz mining, had an assay made the past week from a silver quartz vein recently discovered by him on Snake river. The assay showed 124.80 ounces silver and a slight trace of gold per ton. Value in silver, $161.22.

On the 2nd ult. the mercury marked 56 deg below zero at Parker's station, on Burnt river. This is pretty cold for Oregon, but then that station is well up in the mountains. On the same day the mercury was 4 deg. below zero at Canyon City. This is the lowest temperature experienced there for several winters.

During the past season the Oregon Improvement company have classed themselves with the leading real estate owners of Baker county by purchasing 16,800 acres of state lands. These lands were bought from private parties, and not directly from the state land office, as is commonly supposed. The railroad is located by the O. R. & N. Co., in Powder river valley.

The three-mile flume being built at Auburn will be completed the coming summer. In order to take water from Powder river and conduct it through this flume to the placer mines on Blue Canyon flat at Lower Auburn, a cut varying in depth from five to twenty-two feet, through rock, gravel and loam, has been made, involving a vast deal of labor and expenditure of money. When completed the stream of water conveyed to the mines will be forty inches in width and two feet in depth, or about 1200 miners' inches at the mouth of the flume.

During a session of Good Samaritan Lodge I. O. O. F., in The Dalles, last week, a lamp exploded in the ante-room causing a general panic amongst the members. Two young ladies fainted, and only by the firmness of some of the gentlemen present was a general stampede averted. John Osborne immediately realized the situation, and taking an overcoat carrying which was by packing it on his horse, and he started for his ranch, some 35 miles distant, with a plow, a set of harness and a pair of double-trees, all packed on his mustang pony.

A Texan veteran called in to see us yesterday and he stated positively that he did not capture Santa Anna after the battle of San Jacinto. As he is the first old Texan we ever met who did not capture Santa Anna there is something very strange about it. We are afraid he is an awful liar, but perhaps he was only drunk. We do not wish to do him any injustice.—Texas Siftings.

THE LATE DR. HAWTHORNE.

A Criticism upon his Management of the Asylum Retorted.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

My attention having been called to an article in your paper of the 7th inst., signed by "Rambler," which in justice to the memory of a good man and a just and faithful public servant, the late Dr. Hawthorne, I feel called upon to refute. This "Rambler" makes the unwarrantable statement that during Dr. Hawthorne's superintendency of the Oregon hospital for the insane, "he was never its physician, however, and that he could have filled the place quite as well if he had never been a doctor." Now, that such a statement is false in every particular I have only to refer to all who knew the doctor and his manner of the institution I preside. For twenty years it was his daily custom to visit the asylum, seeing an inmate—trying to the wants of his patients, not shrinking from his duty or leaving it to others, though they were, and at the inside subscribing for one will deny him right to the credit seeing it was fair and to bear up that.

I believe that the people of Oregon, all at least who feel an interest in the asylum and have taken the trouble to inform themselves upon the subject, will do Dr. Hawthorne the justice to say he was faithful to his trust, even unto death; for the last day of his life, preceding his fatal illness, was spent mostly among his patients at the asylum.

It seems to me strange that "Rambler" should be ignorant of the fact that Dr. Hawthorne is and an inquiry here in the United States that has not at its head a physician as its superintendent. Perhaps Mr. "Rambler" is ambitious and would teach a nation its duty and interest on these matters, or it may be he simply considers the patients and the help below the hospital and the "press." If so, let us hope he may learn that while they may have some features in general, there is a vast difference between the maintenance and treatment of the sane or afflicted by at least.

ANOTHER STATEMENT.

EAST PORTLAND, Feb. 8.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Referring to the communication from "Rambler," in your issue of February 7th 1882, we, the undersigned, attaches of the Oregon hospital for the insane, in justice to the memory of the late Dr. J. C. Hawthorne, desire to certify that of our own personal knowledge the said Dr. J. C. Hawthorne, while superintendent of the asylum, was a careful for the insane, gave his unremitting professional attention personally to the patients under his charge.

AFTER ABSENCE.

After long years of absence had gone by
He stood again upon the parent shore
Of stern New England; but his heart was sore
And his chilled bosom rent with many a sigh.
He mourned the vanished gods, the radiant sky
Of the dear land of love, and long and lore;
He mourned the sweet companionship of yore,
That on his path like scattered pearls did lie.
But when she passed, as in the former days,
With the old smile on her golden hair,
With the old kindness and enchanting ways.
'Twas as if some swift wind had clear'd the air;
Before her smile he stood transfixed there—
He had forgotten that she was so fair.

A Reminiscence of the War.

Harper's Magazine for February.

During the civil war there was, rightly or wrongly, a lamentable prejudice entertained against brevet rank and irregular generals. Lincoln estimated at the comparative value of the medals and brigadiers gobbled up by a confederate raider—the army mule was affectionately known as a "brevet horse,"—is known to most readers; but there is another story, scarcely less complimentary, and much less familiar. According to the anonymous libeler, during an active engagement a colonel, while bravely leading his men, received a terrible blow on the head from the fragment of a shell, which completely exposed the brain. He was carried to the rear and intrusted to the care of a surgeon, who at once resolved upon heroic treatment and removed the brain bodily to repair the lacerations. While he was absorbed in this delicate operation, an aide-de-camp, unconscious of the severity of the officer's wound, rode up with a message that Gen. Blank was wanted immediately at headquarters. Mechanically, like the brainless pigeon in the interesting surgical experiment, the gallant officer clambered into the saddle and rode away; and when the surgeon, having completed the rearrangement of the wounded organ, returned to place it in position, he was astonished to find the patient missing. At that moment his attention was attracted by the sound of galloping hoofs, and, looking round, his surprise was intensified on beholding the colonel riding to the front as gayly as if nothing had happened.

"Hi, colonel! hi, colonel!" shouted the surgeon, pursuing him. "Stop. You're forgetting about your brains!"

"Never mind about them," roared the hero, clapping spurs to his horse. "I don't want them—I've just been breveted brigadier general."

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The weather during the past few days has been so unfavorable that but little has been doneat wharves of California vessels and none where they have made much progress in loading. However, a few days of pleasant weather will be sufficient to dispatch the Arabia and David Crockett, both of which are well advanced. Inquiry in the market for room is very fair for the season, especially for dead weight, but there is a lack of flight freight. Rates are very firm at last quotations, but probably there will be an advance soon as ship owners' views are much firmer under scarcity of vessels. No new new charters are noted the past few days.

Salt, in bulk freights have been quite active owing to the fact that to-day's steamer was the last by which others than contractors could ship their freight by this route under now arrangement with the Pacific railroad, and as a result she had a rather full cargo for California.

Railroad freights have been very active, shipments the past week comprising in part 10 casks pearls, 50 bbls currants, 40 pkgs dates, 10 bbls nuts, 225 kegs and 51 cs syrup, 101 cs lubricating oil, 115 cs canned goods, 125 cs milk, 50 kegs coffee, 1100 lbs candles, 350 lbs soap, 25 lbs starch, 225 kegs brewings, 1246 pkgs tobacco and 25 lbs peppersauce. Regarding new arrangements for pooling railroad business, there is nothing new. General Agents Stubbs and Vining are here, and are in conference with those interested in the carrying trade to the Pacific.

The Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—A leading grain circular says wheat is very dull and prices are again easier. Most of the markets show a slight decline with a limited business transacted. Cargoes off coast are steadily held. There is only moderate inquiry and several cargoes have been ordered elsewhere. After Tuesday wheat was slow and a shade lower. Corn, dull and lower. At to-day's market there was a thin attendance. Wheat was in very limited demand. Fine winter about realized previous rates, owing to scarcity of other grades, sold at 1d lower. Flour is in moderate consumptive request and unchanged. Corn was inactive and receded slightly.

Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—In breadstuffs a small business at lower prices was done.

Wheat—10s 4d@10s 7d per cental for California average white; 10s 11d for red winter; 10s 8d@11s for California club.

Receipts of wheat during last three days, 121,000 cantals, American 77,000.

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual weakness have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, when death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchial Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
